

TABLE OF CONTENTS

1.	EXECUTIVE SUMMARY	1
1.1	Background to the Inquiry	1
1.2	A Regulatory Approach for the Twenty First Century	2
	1.2.1 Stability and Integrity	3
	1.2.2 Efficiency	6
	1.2.3 Adaptability and Flexibility	10
1.3	Recommendations	12
2.	THE CONTEXT FOR THE INQUIRY - What is at Stake	22
2.1	The Importance of the Inquiry	22
2.2	The Importance of an Efficient Financial System	23
	2.2.1 Financial system's role in the economy	23
	2.2.2 Financial sector's importance in its own right	25
	2.2.3 Potential efficiency gains	26
2.3	Maintaining Financial System Stability and Integrity	26
2.4	The Need for Flexible Regulatory Arrangements to Encourage Competition, Innovation and Diversity of Choice	27
2.5	The Inquiry's Task	29
3.	IMPACT OF DEREGULATION ON THE AUSTRALIAN FINANCIAL SYSTEM	31
3.1	Impact on Efficiency	32
	3.1.1 The impact of removing interest rate and lending controls	32
	3.1.2 User benefits from removal of lending and interest rate controls	33
	3.1.3 Improved operational efficiency and reduced costs	35
3.2	Increased Competition and Diversity of Choice	40
	3.2.1 Greater choice of institution	41
	3.2.2 Greater convenience and choice	42
3.3	Maintenance of the Stability and Integrity of the Financial System	44
3.4	New Regulation	45
3.5	Conclusion	45

4.	CURRENT ENVIRONMENT AND TRENDS	47
4.1	Introduction	47
4.2	The Forces Driving Change	47
4.2.1	Demographics	47
4.2.2	Technological developments	48
4.2.3	Globalisation of financial markets	54
4.3	The Impact of the Forces on the Structure and Characteristics of Financial Services Markets	56
4.3.1	Trends in savings	56
4.3.2	Trends indebtedness and credit provision	59
4.3.3	Disaggregation	62
4.3.4	Entry of new competitors	67
4.3.5	The formation of diversified financial service providers and the blurring of boundaries among existing players	69
4.3.6	Capital and financial market development	70
4.3.7	Increasing demand for convenience and decreasing reliance on branches	71
4.3.8	Greater customer sophistication	72
4.4	How Financial Institutions Compete and Operate	72
4.4.1	Customer focused strategies	73
4.4.2	Diminished scope for cross-subsidisation	73
4.4.3	Accelerating pressure to reduce costs	75
4.5	Implications for Regulation	76
5.	OBJECTIVES AND PRINCIPLES FOR REGULATORY REFORM	78
5.1	Rationale for Regulation and Supervision	78
5.1.1	The market failure rationale for regulation	78
5.1.2	The social rationale for regulation	79
5.1.3	Balancing the benefits and cost of regulation	80
5.1.4	Conclusion	81
5.2	Principles Which Should Govern Regulation	82
5.2.1	Efficiency	82
5.2.2	Stability	82
5.2.3	User benefit	83

6.	FUTURE APPROACH TO REGULATION	84
6.1	The Nature of Financial Institution Obligations	84
6.1.1	Distinction between guaranteed and non-guaranteed investments	84
6.1.2	Obligations affecting savings and investment choices	85
6.1.3	Obligations affecting other financial services	87
6.2	Aligning the Regulatory Approach with Financial Obligations	88
6.2.1	Assessment of the existing approach to regulation	88
6.2.2	Separation of prudential and financial practices regulation	90
6.3	Approach to Prudential Supervision	91
6.3.1	Institutional basis for prudential supervision	91
6.3.2	Responsibility for prudential supervision	92
6.3.3	Prudential supervision of non-bank deposit-taking institutions	94
6.3.4	Prudential supervision of insurance and superannuation	96
6.3.5	Conclusion	97
6.4	Approach to Regulation of Financial Practices	98
6.4.1	Overall approach	98
6.4.2	Responsibility for financial regulation	98
6.4.3	Prudential implications of financial practices regulation	102
6.5	Co-ordination of Regulation	102
6.5.1	Use of holding companies	103
6.5.2	Approach to prudential supervision of diversified financial organisations: lead regulators	104
6.5.3	Role of Council of Financial Supervisors	104
6.6	Adaptability of the Regulatory Framework	106
6.6.1	How greater adaptability might be achieved - (1) Industry	107
6.6.2	How greater adaptability might be achieved - (2) Review processes	107
7.	PRUDENTIAL SUPERVISION OF BANKS	109
7.1	The Level and Degree of Prudential Supervision	109
7.1.1	The existing approach	109
7.1.2	Scope for outcomes-oriented prudential guidelines	110
7.1.3	The benefits of a less prescriptive approach	112

7.2	Financial and Payments System Stability	112
	7.2.1 Systemic risk and economic efficiency	112
	7.2.2 The Reserve Bank as a lender of last resort	113
7.3	Depositor Protection	114
7.4	Entry Requirements and Ownership Restrictions	115
	7.4.1 Banks (Shareholdings) Act	115
	7.4.2 Minimum capital requirements for new banks	116
	7.4.3 Restrictions on ownership by supervised mutual institutions	117
	7.4.4 Restrictions on ownership of banks or DTIs by non-financial enterprises	117
	7.4.5 Foreign ownership of banks	118
7.5	Equity Investment in Non-Financial Companies	119
7.6	Diversified Financial Organisations	120
	7.6.1 Capital adequacy for diversified financial organisations	120
	7.6.2 Separation of functions within diversified financial organisations	121
7.7	Regulatory Capital	122
	7.7.1 Credit risk and capital adequacy	122
	7.7.2 Risk asset ratios	122
7.8	Liquidity	123
7.9	Regulation of Derivatives	124
	7.9.1 Self regulation	124
	7.9.2 Supervisory developments	124
	7.9.3 Netting	125
7.10	Asset Quality	126
7.11	Funding the Cost of Prudential Regulation	126
7.12	Payment of Interest on Non-Callable Deposits	127
8.	PAYMENTS SYSTEM	128
8.1	What Constitutes the Payments System?	128
	8.1.1 Clearing and settling	128
	8.1.2 The transaction facilitation components of the payments system	130
8.2	Risk	131
8.3	Real Time Gross Settlement System	131

8.4	The Need for Restricted Access to Settlement and Clearing	132
	8.4.1 Settlement	132
	8.4.2 Clearing	134
8.5	Access to Instruments and Delivery Mechanisms to Ensure Preservation of Payments System Stability and Integrity	134
	8.5.1 Instruments	134
	8.5.2 Payments instruction delivery mechanisms	135
8.6	Access to Payments System Infrastructure	135
8.7	Control of Payment Clearing and Settlement Systems	136
9.	MARKET STRUCTURE AND COMPETITION POLICY	137
9.1	Introduction	137
9.2	Scope for Mergers to Increase the Efficiency of the Banking and Financial services Sector	137
	9.2.1 Application of section 63 of the Banking Act	137
	9.2.2 The "Six Pillars" Policy	138
9.3	Section 50 of the Trade Practices Act and Draft Merger Guidelines	138
	9.3.1 The application of competition policy	138
	9.3.2 Market definition	139
	9.3.3 Market share thresholds for review	141
	9.3.4 Import competition and barriers to entry	142
9.4	The Requirement for the Federal Treasurer's Approval of Bank Mergers	143
	9.4.1 The nature of efficiency benefits	143
	9.4.2 The magnitude of efficiency benefits	145
9.5	Conclusion	145
10.	PRODUCT AND CONSUMER REGULATION	147
10.1	Consumer Regulation - Trends and Issues	147
10.2	Approach to Consumer Regulation	148
	10.2.1 National versus uniform approach to consumer credit regulation	149
	10.2.2 Major inefficiencies with the uniform consumer credit code	150

10.3	Privacy	155
	10.3.1 Privacy and the management of customer information	155
	10.3.2 Positive credit reporting	158
	10.3.3 Stored value cards	159
11.	SECTORAL AND SOCIAL ASSISTANCE	161
11.1	Principles Which Should Govern Assistance	161
11.2	Provision of Social Assistance Through Banks	162
	11.2.1 Retail transaction accounts	162
	11.2.2 Pressure to increase lending to small business	163
	11.2.3 Farm Debt Mediation Act (NSW)	164
11.3	Conclusion	165
12.	BANKS AS AGENTS FOR GOVERNMENT	166
12.1	Financial Institutions Duty and Bank Account Debits Tax	166
	12.1.1 Adverse impact on the competitiveness of Australian financial institutions	167
	12.1.2 Adverse impact on efficiency	167
	12.1.3 Inequitable impact on users	168
	12.1.4 Lack of uniformity among the states	169
	12.1.5 Conclusion on FID and BAD	169
12.2	Financial Transaction Reports Act 1988	171
	12.2.1 Account opening procedures	171
	12.2.2 Significant cash transaction reports	173
	12.2.3 Why should cash dealers carry the cost?	173
12.3	Taxation Laws Amendment (Tax File Number) Act 1988	174
12.4	Investigations, Subpoenas and Legal Inquiries	175
13.	AUSTRALIA AS A REGIONAL FINANCIAL SERVICES SECTOR	176
13.1	Introduction	176
13.2	Australia's Comparative Advantages	176
13.3	Required Regulatory Environment	177
	13.3.1 Regulation of financial institutions	177
	13.3.2 Taxes on financial transactions	178
	13.3.3 Some other outstanding regulatory issues	178

14.	SOME ASPECTS OF THE RESERVE BANK'S ROLE IN THE FINANCIAL SYSTEM	179
14.1	Commercial Activities of the Reserve Bank	179
14.2	Integration of Monetary and Supervision Policy	180